MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Mercer Graduate:

On behalf of the entire Mercer University community, I congratulate you on the occasion of your graduation. You have achieved one of the most significant goals of your life, and you have added immeasurably to the intellectual and spiritual foundation on which you will stand in the years ahead.

You may be receiving your first Mercer degree, or perhaps your accomplishment represents your second or even third degree from the University. Whichever it may be, you share a common bond with all of the graduates today of having made real what was once an aspiration. As a graduate, you are entitled to feel a strong sense of fulfillment as you reflect on your hard work and personal commitment.

With each passing year, you will find that memories of your Mercer experiences will grow to mean more to you. As you reflect on the friendships, the learning experiences, the joys and the frustrations of the time you have spent at Mercer, you increasingly will come to realize that the University is a part of your life forever.

Commencement is a rewarding time for the faculty and staff as students move beyond the University to continue along their life's path. The measure of a university is not the accolades accumulated from popular college guides and national rankings. The true measure is the transformation our students experience that prepares them to be intelligent, thoughtful and compassionate leaders who are committed to making a positive difference in their community and the world. We encourage you to stay in touch with the University in the years ahead.

We are grateful that you chose to pursue your educational goals here and that you always will be a part of Mercer University.

Sincerely,

William D. Underwood
President

MERCER TRADITIONS

Mercer University is one of the oldest institutions of higher learning in the South and over 191 years has developed a number of cherished traditions.

SPIRES AND TOWERS

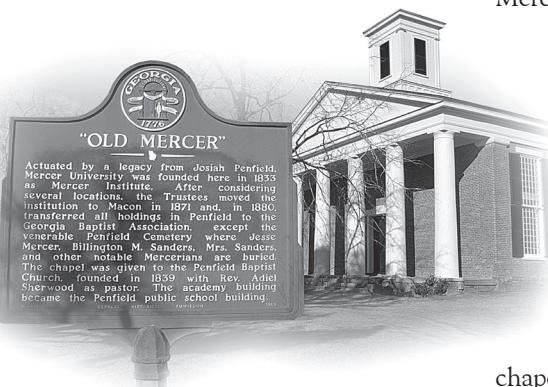

Each fall, part of new student orientation includes a trek up a combination of ladders, spiral staircases and wooden stairs in the Godsey Administration Building, the Macon campus's oldest structure, to reach the tower overlooking campus. Students write their names, graduating years and sometimes favorite messages anywhere from the first stairwell to the actual tower. In addition to the majestic spires adorning the Godsey Administration Building, the Macon campus skyline is also known for the spires of Willingham Auditorium and Newton Chapel.

PILGRIMAGE TO PENFIELD

Since the early 1900s, Mercer undergraduates have been making the trip from Macon to Penfield to celebrate the founding of Mercer University. The Pilgrimage to Penfield, as the tradition is now called, has evolved over the years from a celebration for graduating seniors to an integral part of the Mercer first-year experience.

Penfield, which is located in rural Greene County, was the home of Mercer from 1833-1871. It was named after Josiah Penfield, a Savannah merchant, who challenged the Georgia Baptist Convention to match his $2,500 contribution and support an educational institution. The Convention, fueled primarily from Jesse Mercer's financial contribution and leadership, met the challenge and opened Mercer Institute in 1833. It was renamed Mercer University in 1838.

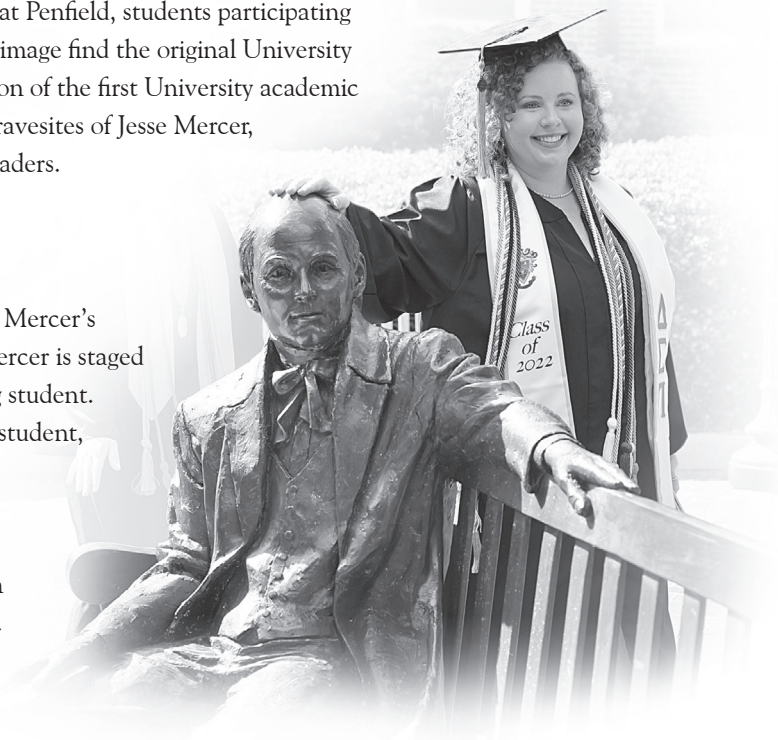

Today, at Penfield, students participating in the Pilgrimage find the original University chapel, the foundation of the first University academic building, and a cemetery that includes the gravesites of Jesse Mercer, as well as a number of former University presidents, trustees and leaders.

JESSE MERCER PLAZA

Statues of Jesse Mercer sit casually on benches in the middle of Mercer's Macon and Atlanta campuses. The youthful-looking founder of Mercer is staged at a sideways angle, looking ready for a conversation with a passing student.

Occasionally, the statue's head is rubbed by a frantic or uneasy student, hoping the tradition of good luck will work on an upcoming exam. During finals, traffic past Mercer's respected namesake increases drastically.

The statues in Macon and Atlanta are encircled by quotes from Jesse Mercer, personally selected by Mercer's 17th president, Dr. R. Kirby Godsey.

Since the statue was installed on the Macon campus in 1995, this area in the main Quadrangle has become one of the most visited sites on campus by students and alumni. The statue, sculpted by Don Haugen of Marietta, was duplicated on the Atlanta campus in 2005. Beginning in 2009, first-year students, as part of Fall Convocation, and graduating seniors, as part of Baccalaureate, began processing past the Jesse Mercer statue on the Macon campus, rubbing his head at the beginning of their academic careers and at the conclusion of their Mercer tenures.

The statue was unveiled in 1995 in conjunction with the reintroduction of the tradition of Founders' Day. The statue was paid for by a Student Government Association fund established specifically for constructing the Jesse Mercer statue.

FOUNDERS' DAY

For a university that is almost two centuries old, Founders' Day is bound to be special. While the annual celebration has a checkered history, the tradition is as strong as ever today. Founders' Day began in 1891, 20 years after the University moved from Penfield to Macon. At that time, Founders' Day was a celebration centered on Jesse Mercer's birthday. Mercer's two competing literary societies, Phi Delta and Ciceronian, each brought in a speaker to honor the heritage of Mercer and its founder.

Founders' Day remained a significant annual event for Mercer for the next 40 or 50 years, according to Dr. Doug Pearson, vice president and dean of students. The occasion had different formats during this period, ranging from political events attended by state governors to all-day historic celebrations.

While this tradition remained strong during the early- to mid-1900s, interest began to wane in the 1950s and 1960s. By the end of the 1960s, the tradition had been completely removed from the University calendar. The absence of Founders' Day lasted until the mid-1990s. At that time, the Student Government Association brought the event back to the Macon campus.

RINGING THE TIFT BELL

When Tift College merged with Mercer in 1986, the alumnae of the Forsyth women's school were apprehensive about Mercer's commitment to honor the Tift heritage. Mercer had joined with the Tift College Alumnae Association to create a plan to honor the historic institution, but when Mercer closed the campus in 1987, that concern was heightened by many members of past classes.

Then-President Dr. R. Kirby Godsey acknowledged the challenges of merging Tift into Mercer, especially following the closing of the school. During that period of the late 1980s, he continued to stress Mercer's commitment to honoring the legacy and heritage of Tift.

That persistence paid off for Mercer and Tift alumnae, primarily through the partnership of past alumnae and current Mercer women participating in the Tift College Scholars Program. This program provides scholarships, leadership development and, most importantly, mentoring from Tift alumnae to 125 women attending Mercer, which also named its College of Education for Tift in 2001.

The preservation of the Tift legacy is a combination of the heritage of Tift and the momentum of Mercer. Part of this history and tradition is the ringing of the Tift Bell, which was relocated to the Macon campus after the merger. Tift graduates began ringing the bell in 1959 as part of commencement festivities.

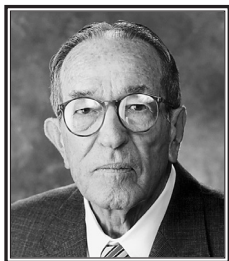

GRIFFIN B. BELL AWARD FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE

In March 1999, Judge Griffin B. Bell was awarded the Distinguished Service Award in Trusteeship by the Association of Governing Boards and Universities. The longtime Mercer Trustee was one of two national honorees selected from the 50,000 board members who volunteer their time to higher education. The University, in Judge Bell's honor, was presented a $10,000 unrestricted cash award. At its April 2000 meeting, the Mercer Board of Trustees voted to use the award to establish the Griffin B. Bell Award for Community Service. This award is presented annually to deserving graduating students from among Mercer's 12 schools and colleges.

THE HONORABLE GRIFFIN B. BELL

Originally from Americus, Griffin B. Bell graduated cum laude from Mercer University's School of Law with an LL.B. degree in 1948. He practiced law in Savannah and Rome, before joining the law firm of King & Spalding in Atlanta as a partner in 1953.

In 1959, while a senior partner at King & Spalding, Judge Bell was appointed Chief of Staff by Georgia Gov. Ernest Vandiver. In 1961, President John F. Kennedy appointed him as a judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. After 15 years of service on the Court of Appeals, Judge Bell returned to King & Spalding. He resigned from the firm to become the 72nd Attorney General of the United States on January 26, 1977, following his nomination by President Jimmy Carter.

He served as U.S. Attorney General until August 16, 1979, when he returned to King & Spalding, serving as chair of its Policy Committee. An active counselor and advisor to leaders in Congress, the U.S. Attorney General's office and U.S. presidents, Judge Bell's influence was wide reaching. He is recognized as one of the country's great Americans. Judge Bell died January 5, 2009, at the age of 90.

2024 GRIFFIN B. BELL AWARD RECIPIENT

CIANDRA CALHOUN

College of Health Professions

During her time at Mercer, Ciandra “CiCi” Calhoun has made her mark on the community and campus as a servant leader and role model. She now graduates from Mercer’s physician assistant program with a Master of Medical Science and previously earned a Bachelor of Science in business administration with a concentration in marketing at Georgia Institute of Technology.

Calhoun has a heart for service and she has made time for numerous volunteer activities amid her rigorous academic coursework. She has worked with refugee patients at Grace Village Medical Clinic in Clarkston, provided care to migrant farmworkers at the Georgia Farmworker Project in South Georgia, cared for homeless patients during Lazarus Health Day in downtown Atlanta, participated in nearly all of the physician assistant program’s service-learning offerings, and volunteered at admissions outreach events.

She was selected as a 2022-23 Physician Assistant Education Association Student Health Policy Fellow and chosen as the recipient of the inaugural Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Scholarship from the Georgia Association of Physician Assistants. In addition, Calhoun helped to establish the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Committee in Mercer’s Department of Physician Assistant Studies during her tenure as diversity chair of the Godsey-Matthews Society.

She believes in compassionate care and has sought to inspire the next generation of physician assistants, including as a mentor to middle and high school students through the Project Access pipeline initiative. She also presented a workshop on “Becoming a Physician Assistant: Education, Resources and Confidence” during the 2023 Georgia Health Occupations Students of America State Leadership Conference.

Calhoun has a desire to improve health equity in underserved communities and foster a more diverse and inclusive environment in her field. As a National Health Service Corps Scholar, she will dedicate the first several years of her career to working in an area with a shortage of health professionals. She wants to focus on women’s health and be an advocate for policy changes to improve maternal health outcomes in Georgia.

WALLACE ODELL DUVALL EXCELLENCE IN LEADERSHIP AWARD

The Wallace Odell DuVall Excellence in Leadership Award at Mercer University recognizes the outstanding leadership of a graduating senior from one of the University’s undergraduate schools and colleges. For award consideration, students must be recommended by a faculty or staff member and nominated by their respective dean. Eligible candidates must demonstrate the abilities to motivate and inspire the confidence and trust of others, while possessing vision, intelligence, integrity and common sense, and having a good academic record. The selected recipient receives a financial award.

Wallace Odell DuVall (1901-1993) was an Atlanta attorney who spent most of his career in the banking industry. He served as secretary and attorney of the Atlanta Building and Loan Association, which later became Georgia Federal Savings and Loan Association, of which DuVall became chair of the Board of Directors and chair of the Executive Committee. A generous benefactor and longtime friend of Mercer University, he was a founding trustee of Atlanta Baptist College, which merged with Mercer in 1972 and became the University’s Atlanta campus. He served three terms on Mercer’s Board of Trustees, 1972-77, 1978-83 and 1985-90. The Dean’s Suite at the Law School is named for him, as well as an academic building on the Atlanta Campus, where his portrait hangs.

BENJAMIN SMITH

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

It wasn't long after stepping onto the Macon campus that Benjamin Smith started finding ways to get involved at Mercer. In addition to excelling academically by obtaining dual degrees in biology and communication studies, he has taken on many leadership roles, approaching each with joy, kindness and dedication. His warm personality has made him well known and beloved across campus, leading his classmates to choose him as the 2023 Homecoming King.

He has earned the respect, admiration and ear of his peers, advocating for their needs and often emerging as a voice of reason. With the Student Government Association, Smith was elected as a freshman senator; class president for his sophomore and junior years; chair of the organizational affairs committee; and student body president for his senior year.

He also has served as a resident assistant, peer advisor and member of the orientation leadership team, as well as a member of the student leadership team and Mercer experience team for the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. He has been involved in the Baptist Collegiate Ministries, including as treasurer, and participated in Mercer On Mission trips to Rwanda and the Republic of Georgia. NATHANEAL BARROW

College of Professional Advancement

Nathaneal Barrow, who was born in Tucson, Arizona, but raised in Macon, dreamed of being a superhero. In common story lines about superheroes, some lose their powers and regain them, some sacrifice themselves to save others, and some overcome childhood traumas or tragedies. Barrow has lived all of those story lines.

Barrow did not graduate from high school and immediately enroll in college. He initially chose to serve his country by enlisting in the military. Barrow received multiple awards, including the Army Service Ribbon for Excellence in Leadership Development, Non-Commissioned Officer Professional Development Ribbon, Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Overseas Service Ribbon, Afghanistan Campaign Medal with Campaign Star and NATO Medal for service in an imminent danger zone of hazardous duty.

While deployed to Afghanistan and on patrol outside of Kandahar, Barrow's convoy triggered an IED buried in the road that sent the vehicle rolling into a ditch. He sustained severe injuries to his lower back, pelvis and abdominal organs that required numerous surgeries and eventually led to his medical retirement at the rank of sergeant. Barrow was in a wheelchair at one point and told he would never walk again. He said he felt like he went from being a superhero to being nothing at the age of 25. Suffering from chronic pain and post-traumatic stress disorder, Barrow found himself falling into a dark hole and reaching for whatever might relieve the physical and emotional pain. He began to self-medicate with addictive substances, and his downward spiral accelerated after he lost his brother to suicide in September 2021.

Barrow amazingly mustered the courage to push back against the darkness surrounding him from his injuries, combat trauma and brother's death. He entered a cognitive behavioral therapy program, and, after 18 months, was cleared to graduate from the program. The lead therapist requested that he continue to attend the meetings to offer his example, wisdom and support to new veterans joining the therapy group. As Barrow attended therapy sessions as a mentor to the newer members, he realized his life's work — to become a counselor to veterans struggling with the same kinds of issues that he experienced.

Barrow completed a bachelor's degree in psychology from the College of Professional Advancement in December 2023 and began his master's program in clinical mental health counseling in January 2024. He is the inaugural student from the College of Professional Advancement to receive the McAfee Vision and Leadership Scholarship. In his letter of nomination, Dr. Craig McMahan wrote, "Nathaneal Barrow has endured some of the most painful and traumatic experiences anyone could imagine. By his own fortitude and the grace of God, he is turning these nightmares into dreams, the dreams of helping others. I am confident that he will use his experience and Mercer education to lead others through their own darkness into the light."

MATTHEW SMITH

School of Business

Matthew Smith, from Macon, is graduating from the School of Business with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in management. While a student at Mercer, he was elected vice president of the Student Government Association and helped allocate funding to student organizations and clubs as part of the organizational affairs committee. Smith has been actively involved in the Baptist Collegiate Ministries (BCM) leadership team, serving as outreach coordinator to maintain consistent communication with peer groups and assisting with the guidelines of weekly messages. He has represented the University positively to prospective students and their families as a member of the Office of Admissions' Mercer Experience Team.

Smith, whose parents met at and graduated from Mercer, and his two siblings, who are also graduating in the Macon commencement ceremony, "bleed orange and black," according to his nomination letter from Dr. Doug Pearson.

Faith is important to Smith. He has grown up in Vineville Baptist Church in Macon, where he sings in the choir, assists with the children's sermon on a rotating basis and assists with youth events. He graduated from Mount de Sales Academy in 2020 with a diploma endorsement in business. He participated in theater, basketball and tennis and was a member of the Student Council.

In summer 2022, Smith traveled with a Mercer On Mission team to Rwanda, where he helped teach university students how to create marketing plans and promoted entrepreneurial development. He also traveled with BCM during spring break 2023 to the Dominican Republic, where the Mercer team partnered with Holt's House of Hope.

Throughout his college career, Smith has been a coach with Macon-Bibb Tennis, leading private lessons and mentoring young people. Working with children and youth through tennis helped Smith realize his dream of starting a nonprofit that would create an after-school program that centers on physical and spiritual development.

Smith gained experience with a local nonprofit organization as an intern with United Way during fall semester 2023. He contacted potential businesses for campaign involvement, prepared and executed campaign kickoff events and assisted in auditing the local schools' campaigns. Smith intends to earn a Master of Business Administration degree on Mercer's Atlanta campus to gain the skills and acumen to create a nonprofit that offers after-school sports and activities to children and youth and also incorporates a devotional time.

Combs is a gracious leader who is dedicated to engaging with and improving her community. With her determination and passion, she has a bright future ahead as a change-maker and an advocate.

WILLIAM CUMBIA

School of Theology

Helping others have a better life is both a passion and a priority for William Cumbia. He completed his Master of Divinity with a certificate in interfaith dialogue online at Mercer's School of Theology in December, while simultaneously living and working in Europe to change the world through other endeavors. He also holds a Bachelor of Business Administration in marketing from the College of William and Mary.

Cumbia has served as the coordinator for migration issues for the European Baptist Federation since 2021 and a field coordinator for a partnership focused on refugee work with the Baptist General Association of Virginia since 2019. For four years, he worked with Project Gemeinde Baptist church in Vienna, Austria, as an intern and refugee integration leader.

In these roles, his focus has been working with Farsi-speaking refugees in Vienna and migrant populations from across the Middle East and Africa seeking safety in Europe. He has become a Baptist leader on issues of migration, refugees and asylum seekers and worked to support the hospitality and care of Baptist churches who have welcomed displaced people across Europe and the Middle East.

Cumbia has a genuine love for people and feels a calling to help those who have been marginalized by war and religious persecution, as well as LGBTQ+ people who have been ostracized by their communities. He has supported fundraising for many relief efforts, and he often puts the needs of others before his own.

JOE AND JEAN HENDRICKS EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AWARD

The Joe and Jean Hendricks Excellence in Teaching Award is a University-wide award given at Commencement to an outstanding teacher at Mercer. Personal attention to students and a focus on superior teaching are distinguishing characteristics of a Mercer education, and this award elevates and honors these values. The award is named for two of Mercer's greatest teachers. Dr. Joe Hendricks and his older sister, Dr. Jean Hendricks, are both legendary at Mercer for their dedication to students and for their ability to engage students in transformative learning and discovery.

Dr. Jean Hendricks, a 1942 graduate of Tift College, earned her Ph.D. from Florida State University, served as chair of the Department of Psychology in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and was the beloved dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in Atlanta. The Joe and Jean Hendricks Excellence in Teaching Award recognizes a full-time teacher in one of Mercer's 12 schools and colleges who best exemplifies the qualities that distinguished Joe and Jean Hendricks as teachers and mentors to generations of Mercer students:

- Challenging and inspiring teaching in and out of the classroom;
- Active engagement of students in the process of learning, discovery and leadership; and
- Caring mentoring to motivate students and junior faculty to achieve their highest aspirations.

The award carries with it a $5,000 stipend.

She was the first woman in Georgia history to serve in a chief of staff capacity to the governor.

Before joining the Kemp administration in January 2020, Noggle served as president, interim president, chief operating officer, and chief financial officer for the Georgia Student Finance Commission. She holds a bachelor's degree from Millikin University and a master's degree in college student affairs from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock where she served as a financial aid officer before moving to Georgia.

She played a central role in the state's COVID-19 operational response, coordinating staffing augmentation for health care facilities statewide, facilitating the Alternate Care Facility at the Georgia World Congress Center and leading cross-agency efforts to plan and deploy vaccination and testing sites. During her tenure at DCH, she led efforts to implement several new Directed Payment Programs that secured over $1 billion in new funding for hospitals around the state.

Noggle has previously served as director of the Physical and Economic Development Division in the Governor's Office of Planning and Budget where she handled budget and policy oversight for more than 20 state agencies. She also served as coordinator of First Year and Academic Support programs at the University of West Georgia.

She is a member of the Board of Directors of the Georgia Lottery Corporation and a 2022 graduate of Leadership Georgia. She is a past recipient of GASFAA's Outstanding Service to Students Award and NASPA's Graduate and Professional Student Award. She and her family live in Atlanta and are members of Oak Grove United Methodist Church.

ARNOLD P. GOLD FOUNDATION LEONARD TOW HUMANISM IN MEDICINE AWARDS

A key component of medical education is the compassionate and humanistic care of patients. In support of that premise, the NBI Healthcare Foundation initiated the Humanism in Medicine Awards to recognize and honor graduating students and faculty members who have demonstrated the highest standard of compassion and sensitivity in their interactions with patients. Mercer University School of Medicine graduating students and the faculty have, respectively, chosen a faculty member and a student who embody empathic, sensitive and respectful behavior in providing patient care.

HIPPOCRATIC OATH

(MERCER UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE VERSION)

I do solemnly swear and affirm in front of my faculty and colleagues as witnesses that throughout my life I will adhere, at all times, to the Mercer University School of Medicine Student Code of Honor and Professional Conduct and that I will keep that code and this oath:

I pledge to uphold and honor the principles of honesty, integrity, and professionalism which are required for the practice of medicine and will accept my responsibility to keep these principles along with the consequences should I fail to do so.

I will hold those who taught me this art dear, and will freely teach this art to those who wish to learn it. I will impart knowledge of the art to my own students.

I will use scientific foundations, which will benefit my patients according to my greatest ability and judgment, and I will knowingly do no harm or injustice to them. I will practice my profession with conscience and dignity. The health of my patient will be my first consideration. I will prevent disease whenever I can, for prevention is preferable to cure.

I will not give a lethal drug to anyone if I am asked, nor will I advise such a plan. I will not knowingly prescribe any drug that would do harm.

Into whatever homes or institutions I go, I will enter them for the benefit of the sick, avoiding any voluntary act of impropriety or corruption.

Whatever I see or hear in the lives of my patients, whether in connection with my professional practice or not, which ought not to be spoken of outside, I will keep in absolute confidence, as considering all such things to be private. I will respect the secrets, which are confided in me, even after the patient has died.

I will not permit considerations of religion, nationality, race, party politics or social standing to intervene between my duty and my patient.

So long as I maintain this Oath faithfully and without corruption, may it be granted to me to partake of life fully and the practice of my art, gaining the respect of all people for all time. However, should I transgress this Oath and violate it, may the opposite be my fate.

May I always act so as to preserve the finest traditions of my calling and may I long experience the joy of healing those who seek my help.

IVY N. CADLE

Commencement Speaker

Born and raised in Swainsboro, Ivy Cadle, '07, graduated cum laude in 2000 from the University of Georgia with a Bachelor of Science degree in biology, and a Master of Accountancy in 2002. He earned his juris doctor from Mercer University Law School in 2007.

Cadle started his career in Macon as an associate with Baker Donelson. He is now the office managing shareholder for Baker Donelson's offices in Atlanta and Macon. In his practice, Cadle is a renowned "dirt lawyer" who litigates issues surrounding real estate, eminent domain, land use, zoning and conservation easements. Cadle's litigation skills have been recognized by The Counselors of Real Estate, an international association of trusted advisors who find solutions to complex real estate challenges. Before law school, Cadle served as an audit associate at a big four accounting firm in Atlanta. He is a certified public accountant. In 2022 and 2015, Cadle's pro bono work was recognized by Baker Donelson. His many other honors include being listed in The Best Lawyers in America® in the area of Eminent Domain and Condemnation Law (2021-2024) and Litigation - Land Use and Zoning (2023-2024); selected to Georgia Super Lawyers in the area of Eminent Domain (2018-2024); and awarded Mercer University School of Law Young Alumni Council Volunteer of the Year Award (2023).

Outside of the office, Cadle is a highly sought-after speaker and committed volunteer to Mercer Law School, the Macon legal community and the State Bar of Georgia. At Mercer Law School, he serves as an adjunct professor, teaching accounting for lawyers. Additionally, he routinely volunteers for moot court preparation, mock interviews and as a guest speaker.

Cadle's bar service began with the Macon Young Lawyers Division where he served as president. From 2017-2018 he was the president of the Macon Bar Association, and from 2016-2017 he was the president of the William Augustus Bootle Inn of Court.

At the same time, Cadle was extensively involved in the State Bar of Georgia Young Lawyers Division (YLD) where he received the Award of Achievement for Outstanding Service to the YLD in 2014, the Award of Achievement for Outstanding Service to the Bar, Leadership Academy in 2013, and the Award of Excellence for Dedication to the YLD in 2022.

Cadle continued his volunteer work with the State Bar of Georgia where he was elected to its board of governors in 2017 and its executive committee in 2019. He was elected to the office of secretary in 2021. On June 8, Cadle will be sworn in as the 62nd president of the State Bar of Georgia.

Cadle's home is in Macon where he lives with wife of nearly 22 years, Leslie L. Cadle, '07, and their chocolate lab, Stella. When he is not dealing with land issues, Cadle takes to the sky. He is an aviation enthusiast and currently holds a multi-engine commercial pilot certificate with an instrument rating.

THOMAS P. (TOM) BISHOP

Greetings from the Mercer Board of Trustees

Tom Bishop serves as chair of the Mercer University Board of Trustees and is currently in his third five-year term on the board. A Double Bear, Bishop earned his undergraduate degree from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences in 1982 and his J.D. from Mercer Law School in 1985. He is retired chief compliance officer and deputy general counsel for Southern Company Services, and for more than 20 years served in senior executive positions with the Southern Company and its subsidiaries, including Georgia Power. He previously served on the Executive Committee of the State Bar of Georgia Corporate Law Section, as a member of the Board of Governors of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, as a member of Gov. Nathan Deal's Judicial Nominating Commission, and currently serves as a trustee of the Georgia Legal History Foundation. He is past national president of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and currently serves as trustee and chair of the Kappa Sigma Endowment Fund. Bishop has been a member of the Mercer Law School Alumni Board in addition to his service on the University's Board of Trustees. He and his wife, Darla, have a son, Tyler, who also holds undergraduate and law degrees from Mercer, and a daughter, Darian, who has an undergraduate degree from Mercer.

KENDALL WEBB

Student Commencement Speaker

Kendall Webb is a history major in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences with minors in journalism and Southern studies with a certification in political communications. This Hot Springs National Park, Arkansas, native has thrived in her academic experiences and contributed widely to the Macon campus culture through her ongoing involvement.

Working with Dr. Douglas Thompson's "Penfield Project," she has helped to uncover more about Mercer's founding and economic development in Penfield. She is a Stamps Scholar and has continued to mentor new students entering the program since 2021.

Most recently, Webb was chosen for the Women's Public Leadership Network Nonprofit Management Fellowship for the 2023-2024 academic year. She was one of only three women chosen for the fellowship out of nearly 100 finalists. The fellows help build the capacity of the organization and assist state partners who identify, engage and train women on the ground to seek public office.

Webb has been involved with the Student Government Association since 2021 and served in other leadership positions, including as a Mercer ambassador and peer advisor. She is also a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority where she has served as director of public relations and has represented Mercer's Greek students as the director of philanthropy for the Panhellenic Executive Council. Webb has worked as a writing tutor in the Academic Resource Center and is a member of a number of honor societies, including Phi Eta Sigma, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi and Phi Alpha Theta.

After graduation, Webb will join the fifth cohort of the Women's Campaign School at the University of Texas's Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs, one of the nation's premier programs for female campaign managers and future office holders. She plans to move to Washington, D.C., to continue a career in politics, hopefully going to the halls of Congress to work with political campaigns and public policy.

EMILY PARKER MYERS

Doctor of Humanities

Emily Parker Myers over her 35-year career at Mercer University held a number of leadership roles, helping to raise the profile of the University and inspiring those around her in the process.

A native of Columbus and a graduate of Florida State University, Myers worked in administrative positions at Jacksonville University and Stetson University School of Law in Florida before joining Mercer's Admissions Office as associate director of admissions in 1973. In 1979, she was appointed by President R. Kirby Godsey as the University's first female senior vice president for University Advancement. At the time, she was among only 25 women in the United States to lead a higher education advancement program.

As coordinator of Mercer's external relations programs, Myers led dozens of staff members across Mercer's schools, colleges and campuses in helping secure hundreds of millions of dollars for the University. She also guided the recruitment of more than 1,000 volunteers for various Mercer boards and committees and served on numerous executive search committees to fill many key administrator positions.

Myers was senior vice president of Advancement and External Affairs and special assistant to the president when she retired from Mercer in 2008. In 2010, the University's new Admissions and Welcome Center was named in her honor to recognize her decades of service and significant contributions to the institution.

Following her Mercer retirement, she became Chief Executive Officer of Myers McRae Executive Search and Consulting, which works with colleges, universities and nonprofit organizations across the country, and served in that capacity until her retirement in 2023.

She has been active in numerous organizations in the Macon community and throughout Georgia. In 2021, the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame established the Emily Parker Myers Leadership Award in recognition of her outstanding vision and leadership. Myers was a member of the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame Authority from 2011 to 2021, serving as chair for eight years.

Participation in the graduation ceremony does not necessarily represent conferral of the degree. Degrees are awarded at the end of the term in which all requirements are met. Honors printed in the program and announced at the commencement ceremony are based on grades earned at the time of program publication and may not reflect final honors.

MESSAGE FROM THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

On behalf of the Alumni Association, I congratulate you on reaching this important milestone in your life! While you may leave today to embark on future careers, further studies, and all the other journeys of a long, interesting life, Mercer will never leave you. You are — and always will be — a Bear. And as such, you have a place with the Mercer University Alumni Association.

It is my honor to welcome you to the Alumni Association, a network of more than 90,000 Mercerians. There is no need to join; you are already a member. The Alumni Association is for all Mercer alumni and provides opportunities for you to connect with your classmates and all who came before you — and those who will come after. We hope you will stay in touch by keeping your contact information current, participating in reunions and events and supporting the University with your time, talent and resources.

We look forward to celebrating the milestones of your life with you and to being a resource for your lifelong learning. Together we roar!

Go Bears!

B. Todd Smith

PHI BETA KAPPA ZETA OF GEORGIA

THE PHI BETA KAPPA SOCIETY — THE NATION’S MOST PRESTIGIOUS ACADEMIC HONOR SOCIETY — CHARTERED MERCER UNIVERSITY TO SHELTER THE ZETA CHAPTER OF GEORGIA IN 2015. In recommending Mercer for membership, the Society’s Committee on Qualifications described Mercer as a “quintessentially Phi Beta Kappa institution” in its values and mission, in its curriculum and general education requirements, in the variety of opportunities it provides its students, in the quality of its best undergraduates, and in the dedicated engagement of the faculty in all aspects of undergraduate education.

Phi Beta Kappa was founded Dec. 5, 1776, at the College of William and Mary by five undergraduates who sought to create a student society that would be more serious-minded than others that had previously existed at the Williamsburg, Virginia, institution.

The first college society with a Greek-letter name, Phi Beta Kappa is derived from the initials for the society’s motto, “love of learning is the guide of life.” ΦΒΚ introduced the essential characteristics of the numerous Greek societies that would follow. These included a badge, mottoes in Greek and Latin, a code of laws, an elaborate form of initiation and a seal.

Phi Beta Kappa is not awarded simply on the basis of high grade point average or class rank, but on a student’s breadth of knowledge and coursework, including foreign language, math and sciences, and humanities and fine arts. An inductee into Phi Beta Kappa has taken a wide range of courses beyond a major. In addition to seeking out a broad range of academic interests, the ideal Phi Beta Kappa member has demonstrated intellectual inquiry and integrity as well as tolerance for freedom of thought and varied points of views. These are the distinctive elements of Phi Beta Kappa that distinguish it from Latin honors such as summa cum laude or department honors in a discipline.

Only 10 percent of the nation’s institutions of higher education have been awarded chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, and only 10 percent of an institution’s seniors may be inducted, making Phi Beta Kappa one of the most competitive and distinguished honors a student may achieve. Since ΦΒΚ’s founding, 17 U.S. presidents, 42 U.S. Supreme Court justices and more than 150 Nobel laureates have been inducted as members, along with countless authors, diplomats, athletes, researchers, actors and business leaders.

MERCER UNIVERSITY PROFILE

Mercer University is one of America's oldest and most distinctive institutions of higher learning, offering rigorous programs that span the undergraduate liberal arts and sciences to doctoral-level degrees. Founded by early 19th century Baptists, Mercer — while no longer formally denominationally affiliated — remains committed to an educational environment that embraces the historic Baptist principles of intellectual and religious freedom.

With more than 9,100 students enrolled in 12 schools and colleges, on major campuses in Macon and Atlanta; medical school campuses in Macon, Savannah and Columbus; and at regional academic centers in Henry and Douglas counties, Mercer is ranked among the top tier and best values of national research universities by U.S. News & World Report. More than 90,000 alumni are making important contributions to their professions and communities throughout Georgia, the Southeast and the world.

While offering a breadth of programs found at much larger universities, Mercer maintains an intimate, student-focused culture more characteristic of smaller liberal arts colleges. Mercer's uniqueness is found in the way the University integrates five defining components of its mission: Liberal Learning, Professional Knowledge, Discovery, Service to Humankind and Community.

ACADEMIC DIVISIONS

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences

Macon — The oldest and largest of the University's academic units, the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is Mercer's academic cornerstone. School of Business

Macon, Atlanta, Henry County and Online — Established in 1984, Mercer's Stetson-Hatcher School of Business is named for Eugene W. (Bob) Hatcher, a Macon businessman, longtime supporter, Life Trustee and former board chair for the University. Over the past 80 years, Mercer has granted more than 12,000 business degrees, and many of its graduates hold senior leadership positions in companies around the world and are successful entrepreneurs. Mercer's business school delivers career-focused business education in order to develop innovative leaders who are responsible global citizens.

Stetson-Hatcher School of Business is an accredited member of The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business International which places it among the top 5% of business schools worldwide. Mercer's business school has been recognized

The School of Theology shares Jesse Mercer's concern that churches have pastor-leaders who understand Scripture and can clearly articulate their Christian beliefs. Mercer University's School of Theology forms ministers and cultivates leaders who thrive spiritually, professionally, and academically in service with congregations, communities and classrooms. The School's vision is to inspire churches and communities to imagine, discover and create God's loving and just world. The School offers master's and doctoral degrees, and several ministry concentrations. School of Medicine

Macon, Savannah and Columbus — Mercer's School of Medicine was established in 1982 to educate physicians and health professionals to meet the primary care and health care needs of rural, medically underserved areas of Georgia through education, service, research and collaboration. Today, a majority of graduates practice in the state of Georgia, and Mercer is a leader in the nation for those who are practicing in rural or medically underserved areas. The School's educational environment was the nation's first to be founded on a patient-based learning philosophy that is case-driven and provides early patient care experiences. This innovative, hands-on approach results in better long-term retention of content and prepares students for a variety of clinical challenges. Mercer University School of Medicine's three locations offers a campus environment for every type of student. Macon is the School's administrative campus. The Savannah campus was established in 2008 and is located adjacent to Memorial Health University Medical Center. Columbus began as a clinical campus in 2012 and welcomed the first four-year M.D. class in the fall of 2021. All three campuses are closely integrated and function as one unit.

College of Pharmacy

Atlanta — Founded in 1903, Mercer's College of Pharmacy has a long history of advancing health care through teaching, research, patient-centered care and service innovations. The College's motto, "A tradition of excellence, a legacy of caring," frames its philosophy of providing excellent academic programs in an environment where every student matters and every person counts. The 400 enrolled students are encouraged to get involved in the College's many nationally recognized professional organizations. They also can take advantage of internships and other opportunities with Atlanta-based health care organizations and government agencies. EMBLEMS

THE MACE

The mace is carried by the Marshal as a symbol of the authority of the University to confer degrees. Originally a weapon of war, the mace came to be used as an emblem of military power and civil authority. Its use as a symbol of university authority dates from medieval times.

The Mercer mace was designed in 1960 by Marshall Daugherty, professor of art in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, and was first used for the inauguration of President Rufus C. Harris. It depicts a cross atop a globe, symbolizing the spiritual commitment of the University as it seeks to understand the world. Circumscribing the globe are the words, "Mercer University, 1833," symbolizing the influence of Mercer throughout the world. Beneath the larger globe is a smaller one, which represents the microcosm of the University. This, in turn, rests atop a form suggestive of a spire. The mace is made of bronze.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SEAL

The seal is worn by the President as a sign of authority. The seal was designed by Professor Otis D. Knight and Professor Marshall Daugherty and was first used for the inauguration of President Rufus C. Harris in 1960.

The seal, which was carved directly in fine silver and bronze, is a mandola-shaped pendant that depicts the form of the Godsey Administration Building, a riband and a stylized stained-glass window of Willingham Auditorium. The background is in bronze and the window is in blue and red cloisonné enamel. On the riband are the Latin words for science, law, religion and the arts. On the border are inscribed the name of the University in Latin and the date of its founding. The shape of the seal is traditional for early university seals.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The practice of wearing academic attire extends back to medieval times and the Renaissance, when it was the custom for teachers and students in European universities to wear gowns, caps and hoods. Although the wearing of the garb is now limited to formal occasions, the garb itself may be called the uniform of the professional scholar and teacher. The style and color serve as symbols of collegiate attainment.

The long sleeves of the gowns and the deep hoods were, on occasion, used to carry books and refreshments. Each European university developed its own style of garb with strict rules for its design. In the United States, however, most American colleges have agreed on a uniform design and color code.

Holders of bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees wear black gowns; the pattern and trimming differ for each degree. Originally, the bachelor's gown was made of serge or worsted and the master's of serge, worsted or silk; but now synthetic fibers are also used. The bachelor's gown is distinguished by its long pointed sleeves. The master's gown has long sleeves with a slit for the arm at either the elbow or the wrist. Doctor's gowns are adorned with velvet panels and bars that may be black or of a color distinctive to the wearer's discipline.

Holders of all degrees wear caps, popularly known as mortarboards, to which a long tassel is fastened that hangs over the left side of the cap. Doctors may wear tassels of gold thread. Holders of bachelor's and master's degrees may wear colors indicating the faculty by which their degrees were granted.

The academic hood is an ornamental fold that goes around the neck and hangs down the back of the gown. The length and shape of the hood vary with the level of the degree. Hoods are generally lined with the colors of the university which granted the degree and trimmed with the color representing the faculty by which the degree is granted.

The following colors are associated with the various faculties:

Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Athletic Training	Sage Green
Commerce, Accountancy, Business	Drab
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon

THE MEDALLION OF PHI KAPPA PHI

The medallion is worn by faculty, administrators and students who are members of the National Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi, an organization that initiates members from all disciplines. The cloisonné enamel medallion is decorated with the badge of the Society and is suspended from a blue, grosgrain ribbon.
